Life Saving Story

This is a neighborhood resident who listed this note on behalf of her friend and very much worth repeating given our presence in Afghanistan. We love and pray for all our military service men and women.

Afghanistan. 14 hr ago, Sent Saturday the 28 th 11:33 AM A dear friend of mine on here wants me to pass a message along. She is posting her own updates, but I will keep her name hidden for OPSEC reasons on my part. Her son is a Master Gunnery Sergeant in Afghanistan. Part of the just 2.5K troops left there. He helped oversee the removal of vital equipment and technology in the past month. This man is literally crying about how the military is being portrayed in the news. He wants everyone to know that they got most of everything out in time. The items that the Taliban have are things given to the Afghan Army. His unit/battalion made sure that everything truly useful was rendered absolutely useless to the Taliban. He is angry and sad that the military on ground is being portrayed as useless. He would also like the world to know that in the past 3 days, they have evacuated around 28K people and that he is proud to stay behind until everyone is out of there.

Hear Directly From Monoclonal Antibody Recipients

PENSACOLA, Fla. – Today, Governor Ron DeSantis was joined by Floridians who have received monoclonal antibody treatments, and announced that Florida will open a new monoclonal antibody treatment site in Escambia County at Bayview Community Center.

Bayview Community Center
2001 East Lloyd Street
Pensacola, Florida 32503

Hours: 7 days a week, 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Hear directly from monoclonal antibody recipients about their experience with the therapy...

Melody Hinson, a resident of Pace, said, "After I tested positive, I immediately got in touch with my doctor. Within two hours, I had an appointment to receive the monoclonal antibodies for the next day. I hadn't heard a whole lot about it, but I went and got the infusion. When I got home that afternoon, my taste came back. The achiness, and all of that went away. We've been blessed by all this effort. There's people here that don't have insurance, and with the state sites and standing referral, they are going to be able to get this help."

Yvette McLellan, who works for the City of Pensacola, said, "When I started feeling sick it felt like a head cold, and I was just coughing. I didn't want to infect my coworkers, so I stayed home Monday and when I went and got tested, I was positive for COVID. My husband was positive by Friday, and he was a lot sicker than I was. We had the antibody infusion and were better that afternoon. I encourage everyone to go and get this antibody infusion as soon as you start feeling anything. The sooner you get it done, the faster you can start feeling better and that'll keep us all out of the hospital. And thank you so much for pushing this. I encourage you all to get the treatment."

Angela Moore, a resident of Pensacola Beach, said, "I contracted COVID on a Saturday evening. By Tuesday I couldn't stand, and I had a fever of 99 to almost 103. Three days later I was able to get the monoclonal infusion. I went in there with a fever, and I came out after the treatment and I didn't have any more symptoms."

Sean Kramer, a retired Navy aviator who lives in Pensacola, said, "Two weeks ago I came down with symptoms after being vaccinated back in February. My symptoms were classic, loss of taste and smell. I contacted one of my doctors that I knew at the VA, and he said he was unaware of the monoclonal antibodies treatment. I sent him a link with information, and he suggested I go get it. Two days later, I tested negative, and got back to work. That was my goal, to not expose anybody else, and to get back to work."

James Madarena, a local paramedic, said, "When I tested positive, I called a medical director that we work with, to ask him what I should do next. He told me to start driving towards Fort Walton, so that's what I did. While I was in route, my wife scheduled an appointment online and once I got there I was in and out within an hour and a half. I tested negative four days later, with nothing more than a stuffy nose. I'm very thankful to have this treatment for those at risk and severe COVID patients. Our community is very thankful for you taking care of them, it is a true blessing."

OCALA/MARION COUNTY CHAMBER & ECONOMIC PARTNERSHIP

As I shared in last month's column, I think our team at the CEP is second to none. They work incredibly hard to insure we are the catalyst for a prosperous community for everyone who calls the Ocala Metro home. A big part of having a great team is hiring incredible people.

Beth is no stranger to Marion County Public Schools. She was elected in August 2016 as a member of the School Board. She served in that position until she moved out of District 2 and resigned the seat in June 2021.

She has been recognized for her leadership skills by receiving the 2020 American Values Honoree for the North Florida Council Boys Scouts of America, the 2018 Florida School Music Association State School Board Member of the Year Award, the 2019 Consortium of Florida Education Foundation's State School Board Member of the Year Award, the 2019 Community Impact Award from The Centers, and the 2018 Interfaith Emergency Services Legacy of Love Award for her commitment and leadership to non-profits in Marion County. She has also been awarded the Junior League of Ocala's "Three Who Care" Award, the Ocala Women's Network "Women of Distinction Award" and the Metropolitan Ocala Rotary Club's distinguished Memorial Honoree.

Throughout her career in education, philanthropy, and business and as a Marion County School Board member, she has exemplified success through partnerships. We anticipate Beth continuing and accelerating the great success we have already had in our education initiatives.

Diversity In Cancer Clinical Trials

(NAPSI)—There's good news, bad news and better news about combating cancer in America these days.

The good news is there's been an overall decline in U.S. cancer deaths since 1991.

The bad news is not all patients have benefited equally from advances in prevention, early detection and precision medicine. One study found that around 8.1 percent of cancer patients participate in a clinical trial. Of those, FDA data show that only 4 percent of clinical trial participants are Black and 5 percent are Hispanic.

What's more, minority groups overall in the U.S. have both the highest death rate and shortest survival rate for most cancers. These inequities in cancer care have been ongoing for decades, due in part to socioeconomic barriers, insufficient information about trials and their benefits, as well as other challenges.

The better news is a major funder of cancer research is working to tackle cancer disparities. Stand Up To Cancer® (SU2C), which raises money to accelerate the pace of research to get new therapies to patients quickly and save lives now, began formalizing its Health Equity Initiative in 2017. The initiative aims to increase minority representation in cancer clinical trials and ensure new cancer treatments are effective for all.

Improving diversity in cancer clinical trials

Moving forward, SU2C-funded research teams will be required to address issues related to recruitment and retention of patients from minority groups to improve diverse participation in cancer clinical trials.

"As one of the leading funders of cancer research, we believe it is our duty to ensure that minority representation in cancer clinical trials is addressed. Now, more than ever, better understanding of the role of biology in cancer treatment, advances in precision treatment, and development of new technologies demands that we also make significant improvements in diverse clinical trial participation," explained SU2C CEO Sung Poblete, PhD, RN. "We are confident that this initiative will make a significant and meaningful impact to ensure all communities have equal access to potentially life-saving treatments."

SU2C is collaborating with a number of industry leaders who are also committed to improving cancer disparities, including Genentech, Exact Sciences, Bristol Myers Squibb and Amgen. Funding from these donors supports SU2C's Health Equity Initiative, including cancer screening and clinical trial awareness efforts as well as research into specific types of cancers that disproportionately impact people of color. Another collaboration with the Black Women's Health Imperative and Friends of Cancer Research is Project TEACH, which will empower Black women to effectively engage with researchers and clinicians as well as increase participation of Black

Florida State Senate

DENNIS K. BAXLEY

Dear Friends,
My update this month will be brief. Committee meetings for the 2022 Legislative Session have begun and we are excited to return to Tallahassee and fight to protect faith, family, freedom, opportunity and life itself.

On the frontlines in the fight for life, we are gaining allies and the state of Texas has brought the heartbeat bill back to the forefront. Senate President Simpson and House Speaker Sprowls have indicated that they will be willing to consider such a measure in this coming year. Your Senator sponsored this bill in 2018 (under different Senate leadership) and even though we had nearly half of the Senate signed on as co-sponsors, we were unable to get it across the finish line. We are very encouraged to see this gaining traction again this year and we remain hopeful that such a measure can be implemented in Florida.

Our Senate President continues to put his trust in our team and has expanded our responsibilities to include the full Appropriations Committee. This committee will hear all matters relating to Florida's budget and we are excited to have the opportunity to be a part ensuring that our state remains fiscally responsible and financially stable. In addition, your Senator will sit on eight other committees and will once again be chairing the Committee on Ethics and Elections and the alternating chair of the Joint Legislative Auditing Committee.

Last year, we passed fourteen out of thirty-three bill that we filed. Some legislators have filed as many as eighty bills in a single session and will get fewer than fourteen. This shows that we are not just throwing everything up on a wall to see what sticks, but rather we are focused on finding the truly good ideas and working hard to see that we are successful. Much of the credit belongs to my colleagues and Senate leadership that has supported us at every turn. It truly has been a team effort and we are very blessed to be a part of it.

None of that would be possible if the voters of District 12 had not sent me to do this work on their behalf. Remember, this is not my Senate seat, it is yours and I thank you for putting your trust in me and this team to do the job. "Nothing significant is ever done alone, but one person can make a big difference."

Onward & Upward,
Senator Dennis Baxley

Spooky Safe Halloween for Your Pet

by Darris Cooper, CPDT-KA

(NAPSI)—It's no secret that pets are like family—holiday traditions included. This Halloween bring your pups in on the spooky fun by decking them out in a scary cute costume and training them to be the most polite trick-or-treater on the block.

From fun costumes to virtual and in-person dog training, Petco has everything a pet parent needs to make Halloween a howling good time for the whole family. Whether your family is planning to trick-or-treat or celebrate at home, here are five surefire ways to help prep your pet:

Plan Your Pet's Look: Petco's latest "Bootique" collection features an array of ready-to-wear Halloween apparel, accessories, matching costumes and more. Dogs can play a different role in the animal kingdom as a shark or cow or even twin with their human as tigers. From easy-on options to full-body costumes, the "Bootique" is full of costumes designed with care so all types of pets and preferences can find their match.

Take Precautions: Once the whole pack has picked their costumes, have a pre-Halloween dress rehearsal so your pup can get used to the outfit and accustomed to everyone else's. Before any festivities begin, triple-check your pet's costume for any hazardous materials that could be chewed or cause choking. To stay safe after sundown, every Halloween look should also include reflective gear and proper pet identification.

Learn the Training Basics: Basic skills such as "sit" and "stay" can make all the difference for dogs when it comes to safely interacting with trick-or-treaters and helping your pet navigate the Halloween commotion. "Drop it" or "leave it" are additional key training cues in case your curious pup sniffs or picks up any human treats—such as chocolate—that could be toxic to dogs. Preemptive Petco positive dog training can be helpful to teach your pet proper Halloween etiquette and keep the holiday fun for all.

Offer Treats in Moderation: Although it's tempting to indulge pets around the holidays, it's important to remember that no more than 10% of a pet's daily calorie intake should be from treats. Help keep pets women in cancer-focused clinical trials. Project TEACH is supported by the Patient Centered Outcomes Research Institute.

"Bringing a diverse patient population into the clinical trials arena is complex," said Dr. Edith A. Perez, MD, professor of medicine at Mayo Clinic, chief medical officer at Bolt Biotherapeutics, chair of the SU2C Health Equity Committee and vice chair of the SU2C Scientific Advisory Committee. "As a part of this effort, Stand Up To Cancer is amplifying the conversation around health equity so that researchers, institutions and cancer research funders join this effort and become more engaged in increasing diversity in cancer clinical trials, similar to Stand Up To Cancer's successes in normalizing collaboration across cancer research."

PUBLISHER'S NOTES

WHEN THE TOWERS FELL!

9-11 When the towers were destroyed and all the lives were lost it started into days, weeks, months and years of memories, sorrow and morning because this was an unnecessary loss of life.

Yes the people that did this act were paid back, except trials that are still going on. 20 years later it ended in another disaster at our southern border. More loss of life, more morning and our country was weakened maybe beyond repair.

Maybe we need to recruit, train and send all these refugee's back to the countries they came from so they can clean up their country. Meanwhile the people coming into our country are free to invade us!

This was a month with several negative email letter to the Editor.

Last month I had a headline that said "In My Opinion This Is Wrong" The story was about our government hiding refugee's in hotels across our country. A letter to the editor sent in by email came in to me saying it was not right that i was accusing a foundation of wrong doing. I did not! I was pointing out it was not right that our government was hiding these refugees and using tax payer money. I think it is a good thing that there are organizations that help the downtrodden. It was also my job to report there was over $600 million supplied to house, feed and hide these people from the public. I'm not saying the organization that is furnishing things for their well being, but the fact that our government had no disclosure about this. We are finding more and more thing our government is using our tax payer money for that is not right. We must tell that story.

Meanwhile check out the video of the press conference with Biden and the King of Jordan, what a disgrace it was. While sitting there bungling his talking points he was shuffling a couple of cards that he was suppose to read. The only thing that I could tell that Biden said to the King was "you live in a rough neighborhood."

Second negative email letter was addressed to me!.. A guy named Robert pick apart the newspapers story by story, Columnist, writers, letters to the editor. I thank him for being a reader even though he obviously is a Democrat. I will take this space in this paper to answer all his questions and statements.

Answer to Robert he started out tom tom tom so started out the same way...

Robert, Robert, Robert,

First Robert you sound like your a Democrat.

Here is the answer to your letter!

You need to get more information from the net. You can check, cross check and verify the information. For instance I printed last year on the net was Dr Anthony S Fauci, Clinton and two of the high tech guys investing money in the Lab developing the COVID-19 (THE INVESTORS). We the United States were funding the Lab through a Charity. The Lab had a bad track record so Obama told Fauci to stop and defund them from us, he did not. Instead he went on with the investors. I think Fauci and others figured if they came up with a vaccine they make a killing. There was some killing. I think they should be charged with murder!

You say maybe the Governor is invested in the serum? The Governor is only invested in gthe people of Florida. The Monlconol Antibody state sites are designed to keep people out of the hospital with the treatment centers. Now Fauci has been caught lying to Congress???

SURPRISE SURPRISE no one could even imagine that Trump could come up with Warp Speed. Of course there are some who believe that Biden came up with the cure in his cellar.

As far as your comments from Robert about Dennis Baxley's statement that there were mothers "throwing their children over barbed wires" you said was far from the truth. I have know Dennis Baxley for many years and I would say he knows a hell of a lot more about what is going on than you do!

Next you attack Governor DeSantis about

ONE PERSON'S OPINION

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Loury:

I was extremely disappointed by your recent op-ed regarding the Biden administration efforts to provide safe haven to refugees and migrants. Endeavors, the non-profit, Christian-based organization you referenced, is a faith-based organization based on Judeo Christian principles. The five churches that founded the organization in 1969 followed these principles while providing social welfare services to the community.

I am extremely disheartened to hear you disavow an organization that has done this outstanding work for years, and felt the need to make this a political issue rather than a charitable act of altruism. There is no "cloak of secrecy" around an organization that not only publishes an annual report (link here: 2020 annual report - Endeavors®.) but which works closely with the media to share its stories around helping those in need.

Please do yourself (and your readers) a favor and spend some time researching the incredible work this non-profit does to help those in need.

Letter to editor

I want Trump to run for a House seat in 2022. Pick a winnable Republican district in Florida -- where the president is beloved. I promise 74 million-plus Trump voters will get excited. They will volunteer, donate, spread the word and, yes, many will move to your district in Florida to help elect you, Mr. President.

This isn't about one House seat. With Trump campaigning and leading the battle, Republicans will sweep to victory in 2022 with the biggest GOP voter turnout in history. We will win a GOP House landslide by 40 to 60 seats -- just like in 2010 and 2014.

Now, to the important part of my plan. The GOP Congress then elects Trump as speaker of the House -- the second most powerful job in America. From that platform, Trump rules Washington, D.C., for the next two years. He is President Joe Biden's worst nightmare.

Speaker of the House Trump can open a dozen criminal investigations against Biden. He can lead the impeachment of Biden (how ironic would that be?). He can block every single Biden bill. He will stop the Biden agenda dead in its tracks.

And don't forget, Speaker of the House Trump can sit behind Biden for each State of the Union address. I can't wait to watch that.

I told Trump he will become an American folk hero. His legend will grow even bigger. His brand and actions will dominate Washington politics leading into 2024. From that platform, folk hero Trump wins the presidency again in 2024 -- after first saving America from the Biden disaster.

Trump was clearly fascinated by the idea. He should be. It's a game-changer for Trump, for the GOP and for America.

The seed has been planted. I hope and pray I just changed the course of history. God bless Trump, and God bless America. email letter with no signature (sound good)

Tom, Tom, Tom, (letter to publisher)

You have spilled the beans as to where you get your news source. In your opinion piece, "this is wrong" You got your information from the net. How is this rumor mill a credible source of news? This means that your entire commentary is nothing but a rumor, placed on the web by a pro-trump and anti-Biden individual. So much for that piece of trash.

With respect to Dennis Baxley's comment that mothers were "throwing their children over barbed wires" was so far from the truth. They were handing their children up to soldiers vary carefully so as not to harm the children. This is how this disinformation begins, with a powerful Senator making false statements in order to further his cause. But so much for him. I rarely read his statements as I do not agree with his philosophy.

Under publishers notes, "A Great governor" You state that monoclonal antibodies are useful in treating patients with covid...but you failed to mention that this treatment comes at a cost of roughly 40 times the cost of a vaccine shot. And DeSantis touts this treatment instead on vigorously pushing for the general population to get vaccinated. Perhaps he promotes this mono treatment because it is reported a friend of the governor's has a great deal of money invested in the mono drug. And how has banning a mask mandate in schools going to help in controlling the spread of the virus? A recent news article reported that an infected teacher spread her disease to at least twenty six other people. Yeah, DeSantis is a really great governor. He just doesn't know a lot.

And finally to D.I.L. I'm not sure what kind of a message was attempting to be conveyed because the delivery of it was kind of scattershot. Why should Fauci or anybody know what your health issues were 60 years ago? Because its irrelevant. The fact is that masks, social distancing and vaccines work. I practice these three all the time, because I don't want to play RUSSIAN ROULETTE with my life.

FROM THE DESK OF

GOVERNOR DESANTIS

Today, Governor Ron DeSantis highlights the progress made in Florida through efforts to expand access to life-saving monoclonal antibody treatments.

Florida has 25 state-run monoclonal antibody treatment sites.

Since opening the first state monoclonal antibody site in Florida on August 12th, our state has experienced a more than 50% decrease in hospital admissions. Additionally, there has been a decline in hospital census for 24 consecutive days and COVID-like emergency room visits are down to the lowest point in nearly two months.

Micha Siegel, a Boca Raton resident who has received monoclonal antibodies, said, "Three weeks ago, I was fully vaccinated, had a family birthday party at my house, and we all ended up getting sick. I was sick for about two or three days before I got the treatment. The symptoms were... severe headaches, head congestion, colds, low-grade fever, and about 24 hours after [the treatment], it was basically gone. I think [monoclonals] are a great opportunity for everybody to know about whether you were vaccinated or not."

President and CEO of Broward Health Shane Strum said, "As the world celebrated the arrival of the long awaited COVID-19 vaccine, another weapon in our arsenal against COVID became available. So, missing the spotlight shared by its vaccine counterpart, the monoclonal antibodies began being infused into recently diagnosed patients [and] really began to show a difference. As an early adopter [of] the therapy here at Broward Health, we actually started back on December 14th, and we really started to see the benefits of the treatments. Governor DeSantis took so much time to listen to our doctors, our nurses, our clinicians, spent a lot of time with our staff, to hear the [patient] stories and get a better understanding of what we're actually doing here at Broward Health."

Broward Health Medical Director of Ambulatory Services, Dr. Aldo Calvo said, "Thank you, Governor, for really putting a spotlight on a state and national level regarding the value of monoclonal antibodies. The way monoclonal antibodies work is through injecting the neutralizing antibodies and boosting the immunity of those patients with mild to moderate symptoms right away."

Finally, a Scientifically Documented Product for Women's Incontinence – That Works!!

FEMAXEEN® is a natural product designed to help women maintain a good bladder function and urinary flow.

FEMAXEEN® is a European product that underwent Randomized Double Blind Clinical Studies and obtained great results for the treatment of Urinary Incontinence in Women starting in as little as 90 days.

Stress Incontinence occurs when weakened pelvic floor muscles cause you to leak urine when you cough, sneeze, jump, or laugh. Intensive physical exercise or sudden movements can also set it off. This is caused when the Muscarinic Nerve Receptors (M3) which mediates the contractile response in the bladder stops sending said signals.

Urge incontinence typically occurs in older women and is when you feel a sudden, uncontrollable urge to urinate. It is caused by the Soft Detrusor Muscle in the bladder contracting during the Fill – Void stage in the bladder forcing urine to leak through the Sphincter Muscles. It can strike at any time or anywhere.

FEMAXEEN® has dual action that helps women conquer Stress and Urge Incontinence. Its proprietary ingredient Uri-Cy-Tonin® sends weak signals to the Muscarinic Nerve Receptors (M3) in the Bladder and this action helps you overcome Stress Incontinence while its Flower Pollen Extract works on the Soft Detrusor Muscle relaxing it, helping you fight Urge Incontinence or Overactive Bladder.

FEMAXEEN® dual action works by sending weak signals to the Bladder Receptors and the Soft Detrusor Muscle. These signals are weak, but they are cumulative, and their effect gets stronger month by month when taken daily.

In addition, FEMAXEEN® also has Vitamin D (Antioxidant) and Pumpkin Seed Extract to help you maintain good Bladder health.

- FEMAXEEN® works on both types of Incontinence, Stress Incontinence & Urge Incontinence.
- FEMAXEEN® s UriCyTonin® sends weak signals to the Muscarinic3 (M3) receptors, enabling them to inhibit the contractions necessary to control Stress Incontinence.
- FEMAXEEN®'s Flower Pollen Extract sends weak signals to the Soft Detrusor Muscle in the bladder helping stop the sudden contractions of this muscle that cause Urge Incontinence.
- FEMAXEEN®'s Pumpkin Seed Extract helps support Lower Urinary Track Health.
- FEMAXEEN®'s Vitamin E is a potent Antioxidant that can help protect the bladder.
- FEMAXEEN® is manufactured in Europe under strict GMP standards and in Europe unlike the U.S. natural products go thru health authority regulations.

In closing, I would just like to add that I believe that all these people being admitted to hospitals with the virus who have NOT been vaccinated should be responsible for their own hospital costs. Maybe then some of these people would opt for a vaccine to prevent getting infected instead of taking up valuable bed space in a hospital which could then be used to treat patients with other ailments.

Til next time, Tom.

the Monoclonal antibody treatment sites. If you go to the site any of them in the state they are FREE. I had a personal experience where the business man running a vegetable stand tested positive. He went straight to the state site and tested negative in three days I say that was a good example. Trump bought all the serum the pharmaceutical company had before he left office, you see that is what cured him.

Love is just a leash away!!

The HSMC is here for you and the animals who depend on us. We wanted to share that we will continue to be here to help unwanted pets during this pandemic while following all Marion County and Florida state guidelines.

As this situation is constantly changing, we ask that you continue to visit our Shelter using the safety guidelines in place.

How can you help?

Pet Food Bank: Help stock our Pet Food Bank with pet food and supplies for people who cannot afford them due to job loss or other reasons. You can also bring donations to our Shelter daily from 10-6. Masks required please! If you need help keeping your pet with you during this time, our Happy Paws food program is here for you.

Volunteer: A small number of volunteers have returned to help in various departments. We are accepting volunteer applications but do not yet know when we will schedule orientations for new volunteers. Please contact us for more information about volunteering. We are currently working on a digital orientation.

Opt to adopt: According to the Centers for Disease Control and the World Health Organization, there is no evidence that companion animals such as cats and dogs can spread the virus that causes COVID-19.

Donate: We know there is a lot of uncertainty right now but homeless and unwanted animals still need us. Donate to help the Humane Society of Marion County so we continue our lifesaving work and make them feel safe and loved.

Bilbie

Bilbie is a 14 weeks old male brought to the HSMC with her brother Wombat! We believe they could be Xolaitzcuinli, or Xolo, which is Mexican hairless dog breed.

Fuchsla is a 15 week old paralyzed kitten full of love.

Ninja is paralyzed in his hind legs but enjoys runs with his wheels.

Your donations make it possible to provide medical care, food and shelter to animals in need. On behalf of all the animals, thank you for caring.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MOODY

Attorney General Moody Urges Floridians to Remain Prepared for Hurricanes During National Preparedness Month

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—September is

National Preparedness Month and Attorney General Ashley Moody urges Floridians to remain vigilant and reevaluate preparedness plans should disaster strike. The peak of hurricane season occurs between mid-August and late October. As Floridians enter the second half of hurricane season, Attorney General Moody is highlighting the 2021 Hurricane Preparedness Guide for Floridians to prepare their homes and families against potential disaster.

Attorney General Ashley Moody said, “2020 was a record-breaking hurricane season with 30 named storms and 11 land strikes. As we continue to recognize National Preparedness Month and peak hurricane season, I urge all Floridians to make preparations now, to keep their loved ones and property safe—should a storm strike where you live.”

The theme of this year's National Preparedness Month is: Prepare to Protect. Preparing for disasters is protecting everyone you love. To help

Floridians protect their families and homes, Attorney General Moody is issuing the following hurricane preparedness tips:

- Have at least a three-day supply of food, water and other emergency supplies stored in your house;
- Research storm-related products to verify they are hurricane-proof or impact-proof before purchasing;
- Create a plan with evacuation routes, shelter locations and specialized plans if a family has young children;
- After the storm, be wary of scammers offering extremely low prices for repairs or demanding considerable sums of upfront payments; and
- Make sure that potential charitable donations are going to a real cause, as it is common for charity scams to crop up during times of disaster.

To view more tips in Attorney General Moody's 2021 Hurricane Preparedness Guide, go to

After a storm, recovery can be a grueling process that scammers may attempt to exploit. Read more about after-the-storm scams in my Scams at a Glance: After the Storm go to

During the hurricane season, price gouging is one of the most common consumer complaints. Price gouging is when essential commodities are sold for an amount that grossly exceeds the average price for that commodity during a declared state of emergency. For more information about price gouging, go to

Attorney General Moody Warns of QR Code Scams

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—Attorney General Ashley Moody today issued a Consumer Alert warning Floridians about QR code scams. QR, or Quick Response, codes are codes arranged in black and white pixelated squares that can be scanned by your phone, tablet or other electronic device. The COVID-19 pandemic compelled many businesses to offer QR codes for customers to access information such as menus, tracking packages and viewing apps. According to the Better Business Bureau, scammers are reportedly replacing QR codes with fake codes leading consumers to phishing websites, automatically launching payment apps or downloading malicious malware.

Attorney General Ashley Moody said, “Many businesses are innovating how they share information to reduce person-to-person contact during the pandemic, turning to QR codes to eliminate the sharing of printed material. Sadly, scammers are taking advantage of this by changing QR codes to re-route consumers to malicious websites. Be wary when using QR codes and make sure that what you scan is approved by the business.”

To avoid QR code scams, Attorney General Moody is offering the following tips:

Before scanning, make sure a QR code is from a reputable source;

Watch for shortened URL links that may contain malware;

Research and download a QR code app that has added security;

Do not scan QR codes from an unknown source; and Look out for stickers placed over legitimate codes or other signs of tampering with codes at business locations.

Downloading security apps may help to keep devices free of malware but be sure to thoroughly research any such app to avoid mistakenly downloading malware.

If malicious malware is downloaded, visit the Google Support Help Center for information on how to remove unwanted ads, pop-ups and malware from a mobile phone or computer. Additionally, the Federal Trade Commission provides a detailed guide on how to recognize, remove and avoid malware.

To report a QR code scam, contact the Florida Attorney General's Office by calling 1(866) 9NO-SCAM or file a complaint by visiting MyFloridaLegal.com.

The Florida Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division issues Consumer Alerts to inform Floridians of emerging scams, new methods used to commit fraud, increased reports of common scams, or any other deceptive practice. Consumer Alerts are designed to notify Floridians about scams and available refunds in an effort to prevent financial losses or other harm caused by deceptive practices. Anyone encountering a scam should report the incident to the Florida Attorney General's Office by calling 1(866) 9 N O - S C A M or visiting MyFloridaLegal.com.
