Floridians are finally starting to return to life as normal after Hurricane Irma wreaked havoc in our state for almost two weeks. Irma delivered a blow to millions of people throughout the Caribbean and the southeastern United States, leaving many left to piece their lives back together in its wake. Hurricane Irma's furious march through Florida not only darkened millions of homes, it also flooded roads and piled them with debris, blocking off access to neighborhoods. This has presented more problems for local governments to figure out the best way to clean up and begin recovery efforts. Yet Florida, undoubtedly, has proven its resilience after Irma. Tap water is drinkable. Trash has been picked up. Public transit has slowly come back online. At airports, flights are regularly taking off. We must be grateful for the careful leadership and preparation that Governor Rick Scott and all our elected officials provided before and after the storm. Florida has never seen such widespread effects from a hurricane like this before, and were it not for the tireless efforts of so many, it could have been much worse.

Not only have our infrastructures taken a beating, our agriculture industry faced enormous damage from Hurricane Irma. The storm has ruined what was expected to be the best season for citrus in years. Agriculture makes up roughly 20 percent of Florida's economy, and FL growers are usually preparing these crops for harvest this time of year. Instead, fruit growers and farmers fear the damage Irma wrought on the state's citrus, sugar cane and vegetable crops will be catastrophic. Florida farmers suffered 80 to 90 percent losses in parts of the state after Hurricane Irma flattened greenhouses, toppled trees and flooded pastures as it tore through the state. This not only effects the crops in the short term, but can also have long term consequences as damaged land could prevent farmers from being able to plant their next crop to keep up with the cycle.

Above all, we have learned that Florida remains as resilient as ever. Our citizens are prepared to rebuild and Florida will be stronger as we embrace this challenge together.

Punch Up The Flavor

(NAPSI)—Low and slow is the way to go when it comes to entertaining. Start marinating the night before, prep the rest of the ingredients in the morning, drop it all into the slow cooker and let the magic begin as the flavors slowly meld and everything turns tender.

Then it's all about the garnishes to contrast the mellowness and succulence of a slowly braised meal. Choose items that will strike the perfect balance by adding brightness and texture:

Chopped scallions, fresh jalapeños and halved cherry tomatoes add crunch and flavor to your favorite chili recipe.

Handfuls of arugula, chopped parsley and pine nuts are delicious toppings for your favorite chicken cacciatore recipe.

Roasted sesame seeds, julienned cucumbers and cilantro cool down your favorite Asian spicy rib recipe.

Kevin Sheilley OCALA/MARION COUNTY CHAMBER & ECONOMIC PARTNERSHIP

Three of the key areas on which the CEP focuses to drive our mission is Business Attraction, Business Retention, and Business Creation. Each of these areas is equally important as we seek to be the catalyst for a more prosperous community by serving as the voice of the business community and working to create and retain jobs and provide a return on investment for our partners. Not only are they equally important, but each has had recent successes.

Business Attraction

The CEP was able to officially announce recently that Mestizo Foods had purchased the former Golden Flake facility and would be establishing their headquarters and manufacturing operations here. Mestizo is a private label and third party snack food manufacturer. In other words, you will never see their brand on the store aisle, but you may very well purchase their products when you buy store-label potato chips or other snacks. The company will be adding 200 employees over the next year and looks forward to being an active corporate citizen.

Business Retention

Not only is it important for the CEP to attract new primary employers like Mestizo, but it is essential that we work to retain and grow existing employers. Recently, we were able to announce that Cardinal LG had selected Ocala to build a second facility. This new facility will include 300,000 sq. ft. of new construction on a site nearly across the street from their current facility in the Meadowbrook Industrial Park. The company will have at least 50 employees which will complement their 425 employees in their existing facility. Cardinal could have built this facility anywhere and looked at many locations. However, their decision to basically double-down on their Ocala investment speaks volumes to the local business climate.

Business Creation

I am very proud of the great work on Business Creation does to assist entrepreneurs with the creation of new businesses. So far this year, our team has met with more than 150 entrepreneurs to help them plan and grow. A few of these entrepreneurs will become residents or affiliates of the Power Plant Business Incubator. This three building complex is an initiative of the CEP and located adjacent to our main facility downtown. The complex is nearing 100% capacity with 21 current residents and affiliates. Our residents generally fall into one of three categories: Technology, Health Care, or Communications. These businesses are a great example of this community's incredible entrepreneurial spirit.

Attracting new businesses, helping existing businesses grow and expand, and nurturing start-ups are key activities of the CEP as we seek to lead growth that keeps our community Moving Forward!

TOGETHER WE CAN DO MORE

Stay informed on relevant resources and volunteer opportunities available for you to help the ongoing rebuilding efforts of local and national organizations after natural disasters. Your support will have a positive effect on those in need of assistance but also on your personal life. Make sure the organizations you choose are worthy of your support.

PUBLISHER'S NOTES

Where is our country going!

This new scandal if it's true will not only shake our country but it will shake the world. How could this happen you ask? GREED! Hidden documents, hidden foundation money, lies, our own government watch dogs committing crime, taking money, unlawfully surveilling American citizens and using the IRS to intimidate a political section of people. WOW!

Almost 3,000 died on 9-11. Many have forgotten. We let factions of people push us around about being patriotic. 16 years ago after 9-11 everyone was flying flags on their cars at home and at their businesses. Today we are being challenged when we fly a flag at a baseball game. At Football games we are disrespected during the national Anthem. Some of the people who attack us on 9-11 were illegal aliens. Today we are challenged when we want to check their legal status.

***

We have a president that is trying to make things right and is getting many road blocks put up by the left faction. There are a lot of powerful people in the swamp he is trying to drain. Most of those people are trying to obstruct. We the people must not allow them to undermine our Government, our Constitution and the American way of life. Every day they are uncovering Graft's payoffs. I say put them in jail. A couple of the real bad crooks go to jail and the others will say I don't like that retirement program and either quit or straighten up.

***

NFL hmmm...They are getting tax incentive. The Football players are getting some tax incentives. The taxpayers pay a big portion to have stadiums built and taxpayers have to pay for advertising signs at the stadiums. We buy tickets to the games, which are not cheap. And don't forget all the money the vendors make for shirts, stickers and etc. Not me. Not any more. I'm finished!

***

The other day I was going through some old magazines. Hugh Hefner had just died. I came across a Playboy magazine from the past: September 2008. Hugh Hefner was not just a playboy but also an editor. There was a story about John McCain. Very interesting... Page 37 of September 2008. You might have a different view of the John McCain today.

Lily graduated from the program's Law Enforcement Investigative Therapy Dog Course and she was given to the MCSO at no cost. Since she came to the MCSO in May 2017, Lily has received full certification as a therapy dog and is out working in our community.

Lily's handler is MCSO's Department of Children and Families (DCF) Investigative Liaison, Detective Janeen Henley-Freeman. Detective Henley-Freeman and Lily will focus on adult and children DCF investigations, missing persons, sex crimes, child abductions and child exploitation internet crimes assisting the victims of these crimes. Our goal is for Lily to help victims feel more at ease while speaking about their situation(s).

Improve Your Cell Reception

(NAPSI)—If your home is like most, you no longer have a landline. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, 51 percent of U.S. homes rely on cell phones alone for a telephone connection. So a reliable cellular signal is more crucial than ever.

The Problem

Unfortunately, bad cell reception can happen in urban areas, thanks to all the obstacles that block cell tower signals from reaching your phone. And it can be even worse in rural areas, which make up more than 72 percent of the U.S. land area.

In fact, most cell phone users have used a number of creative ways to make or receive a mobile call, including going outside, standing near a window, finding the one spot in the house with a signal, standing like a statue and even moving like a ninja.

An Answer

If that doesn't work, you may want to try these 10 signal-boosting tips that cost nothing.

Tips To Improve Your Cell Signal

1. If you're moving, stop. When you're stationary, your phone and the network don't have to constantly adjust for your changing location.

2. If there's a case on your phone, remove it. A case can block cell signals from reaching your phone's internal antenna.

3. Don't block the internal antenna by holding your phone. Try a different hand position to see if reception improves.

4. Go outside or get clear of any obstructions. Building materials block cell signals, so if you're in a building, go outside to get better reception. If you're already outside, find an open area such as a plaza or a park.

5. Keep your battery charged up. A low battery can hurt your phone's ability to get and keep a cell signal.

6. Change your location. If you're inside, move to another room of the house or into your office corridor. Or move next to a window, where the cell signal may better penetrate the exterior walls. If in a vehicle, try driving a mile down the road.

7. Increase your elevation. By moving to the top floor, you reduce the chance of obstructions blocking the cell signal. If you're driving, find a high spot and park there.

8. Use the Wi-Fi network. All newer smartphones allow native Wi-Fi calling and texting, which is supported by all major U.S. cell carriers. There are also a bunch of messaging apps now for audio and video calling. Solid Wi-Fi may be a good substitute for a spotty network.

9. Locate the nearest cell tower. When you know where the cell tower is, you know which direction your signal comes from. Then, move to the side of the building nearest the tower. If you're outside, try to get clear of any signal-blocking obstructions between you and the tower.

10. Try switching from 4G to 3G. Turn off your LTE service. See if you get a better connection with the 3G or even the 2G network.

How To Protect Your Data

(NAPSI)—Chances are your data, whether personal or at work, has been compromised.

Even before half the adults in America had their information stolen from a major credit-reporting agency, there were about 178 million personal records exposed in 2015 and it's estimated that number rose to more than 200 million in 2016.

The technology you use every day—computers at work or home, printers and your mobile phone—needs to be protected. By 2020 there are projected to be 20.8 billion Internet-connected things—and they'll all need protection.

Fortunately, however, you can go a long way toward protecting your data with seven simple steps.

1. Back up all critical data saved on your personal machines.

2. Keep dynamic and different passwords across applications; consider using a password manager.

3. Be very diligent whenever clicking on a link or attachment in any e-mail—don't get phished.

4. Be very cautious about entering data into a pop-up window.

5. Review your privacy settings on all social media tools.

6. Shred your bills, medical records and the like before discarding them. You can also have them shredded at a trusted retailer such as Staples, which, in October, will shred up to two pounds for you at no charge.

7. Get your electronic devices professionally reviewed and updated.

Making this easier is a free offer from Staples during the month of October.

You simply drop off your PC or bring it in and while you wait the tech-savvy associates there will review the device for security issues or update your PC/Desktop Network Security plan, make any necessary recommendations and offer 10 percent off the service recommendations you decide to get.

The security assessment service includes: Either an in-store or remote connection service

A review of MSConfig and a list of current start-up apps

A check to ensure that the following are installed, enabled and up to date: Windows or personal firewall, anti-virus software, all operating and applications security patches

A scan for adware, spyware and malware
Based on a network and/or device security assessment, Staples will provide you with the necessary steps to improve and protect the machine.
