Was It JUST a Dream?

By TomL

I Had a Dream! Not I have a dream! I had a dream about what is going on in the world and our country.

Remember the song "Just a Dream / Just a dream. All our Plans and all our Schemes???????"

The way the dream started was right after the Trump verdict I could not sleep. I sat down in my recliner that night with Fox News on slept and woke up every once in a while and it seemed the news was part of my dream. Scholars and legal analyst came from everywhere saying the trial was not real, maybe it was just a dream. Mine was a dream! So what comes next? Do they finish crucifying him, or do they want to drag him through the streets of New York some more. Do they want to lock him away out of hearing and out of sight. I think the cause would just keep growing!

Well that happened to me. Once up on a time there was a man who loved his Country and as he was serving his cause and helping his country, he realized many were trying to use politics to benefit themselves and attack him. Then he realized he needed to dedicate himself to the cause not the benefit. The cause was to make all men and women equal under the law. Let's make something clear men are men and women are women and some are trying to force themselves into the opposite sex category, they want to be winners of tournaments and compete in life where they could win. Others are the Gay Rights and that's their life to live. As my dream continues I remember waking up from time to time and hearing Fox News on TV and then the Dream continues... Back in the days there were Kings and they had all the power the King not wanting the people thinking the person fighting for justice was more popular than him so started to undermine him, but It did not work because he had a cause. Remember in Biblical times? They drug him thru the streets of New York a place he was born. raised and helped build to crucify him in the eyes of his followers. Remember this is "Just a dream" The King found him guilty of charges that did not ever exist. So they created them.

His followers have appealed to his supreme rulers, Our Supreme Court and they stayed silent. Many scholars from everywhere say the ruling was illegal but the Supreme Court stays silent. In a very short time his followers grew to a tremendous following for this cause, raise million's of followers for what the King did to him, he was "Martered!" the king made up what was against him and making the cause out of reach of the people. JUSTICE is a Cause??? Politics is a job with power.

"Believe in the Constitution of the United States" The followers are following the man and showing their support but half of it is the cause that he stands for. He is in the way of the King in control so let's crucify him. I recently heard someone say "He is after you not me but I'm standing in his way". So what do you do? I will fight for a honest election. Here you have to make a decision between who is good and who is evil. "You stand with the truth or some day die as a liar!". Remember this was "Just a dream!" Can I be prosecuted for a dream? In New York probably. Everyone should see the video 2,000 mules. Then you would understand what they have done.

I say just turn him loose and let the street fight begin. When this man said he was going to drain the swamp it made a lot of people nervous after all that scares people, they are just like us people the IRS / DOJ / FBI / ETC ETC. But we have to remember the these people working at a job and when their leaders tell them to jump they jump. I am a very old man and I think I have pick up some wisdom along the way of life. After all I learn that the elderly had a lot of wisdom to share but most are silent just like the Supreme Court. I know they have to move slow and precise but remember. "When it's to late.... It's to late!" Wake up from my dream and make thing better again!

IT'S "Just a Dream? All our plans and all our schemes!"

Hopefully it's not The End of my dream! I woke up and heard Gutfeld on Fox News say there should be a Wanted Poster with Trumps picture on it that says WANTED as President by the American people.

REMEMBER It was Just a dream! What say you. tomllublishing.com

Homicide Investigation

Lady Lake Police Department seeks leads in unsolved homicide investigation

LADY LAKE - The Lady Lake Police Department is seeking leads in the murder of 20-year-old Bryson Leverette. The department recently assigned a new detective with a fresh perspective hoping to solve this nearly one-year-old homicide case.

Leverette was one of two victims shot at 104 Caroline Ave. on June 30, 2023. Lady Lake Police responded within minutes and performed life-saving measures, however Leverette was sadly pronounced dead at the scene.

The initial investigation revealed that both victims were leaving the home in the Skyline Hills area of Lady Lake at around 12:44 a.m. when they were attacked by a group of armed suspects using several different firearms. The suspects fled the area in unknown vehicles and the ensuing investigation did not produce any arrests.

Since his death, Leverette's girlfriend gave birth to their son, and his mother continues to grieve his violent unsolved death.

In May, Leverette's homicide was re-assigned to Lady Lake Police Det. James Dunagan, who recently joined the department with more than 20 years of law enforcement experience.

"I am committed to working toward a resolution for Bryson's family. They deserve answers," said Det. Dunagan. "We ask that anyone with information come forward to help us bring justice in this case."

Anyone with information is asked to call Det. Dunagan at 352-751-1565, email jdunagan@ladylake.org, or contact CRIMELINE at 1-800-423-TIPS (8477).

Florida State Senate

DENNIS K. BAXLEY

From the Desk of Senator Dennis Baxley----

Good morning friends-

With the elections just around the corner, I wanted to share with you the constitutional amendments that will be on the ballot for the General Election on November 5th, 2024.

Amendment One – Partisan Election of Members of District School Board – HJR 31 passed by the Legislature 2024...This will require members of a district school board to be elected in a partisan election rather than a nonpartisan election and to specify that the amendment only applies to elections held on or after the November 2026 general election.

Amendment Two – Right to Fish and Hunt – CS/HJR 1157 passed by the Legislature 2024...Preserving the forever fishing and hunting, including by the use of traditional methods, as a public right and preferred means of responsibility managing and controlling fish and wildlife.

Amendment Three – Adult Personal Use of Marijuana – Allows adults 21 years or older to possess, purchase, or use marijuana products and marijuana accessories for non-medical personal consumption by smoking, ingestion, or otherwise; allows Medical Marijuana Treatment Centers, and other state licensed entities, to acquire, cultivate, process, manufacture, sell and distribute such products and accessories. Applies to Florida law; does not change, or immunize violations of, federal law. Establishes possession limits for personal use.

Amendment Four – Limit Government

Interference with Abortion – No law shall prohibit, penalize, delay, or restrict abortion before viability or when necessary to protect the patient's health, as determined by the patient's healthcare provider. This amendment does not change the Legislature's Constitutional authority to require notification to a parent or guardian before a minor has an abortion.

Amendment Five – Annual Adjustments to the Value of Certain Homestead Exemptions – Requires an annual adjustment for inflation to the value of current or future homestead exemptions that apply solely to levies other than school district levies and for which every person who has legal or equitable title to real estate and maintains thereon the permanent resident of the owner, or another person legally or naturally dependent upon the owner is eligible. This amendment takes effect January 1, 2025.

Amendment Six – Repeal of Public Campaign Financing Requirement – Repeals the provision in the State Constitution which requires public financing for campaigns of candidates for elective statewide office who agree to campaign spending limits.

It's not too early with the primary coming up on August 20, 2024, to make sure your voting registration is in order and you know where your voting precinct is located.

Lady Lake Library Hosts School Supplies for Fines in July

LADY LAKE – For the second year, the Lady Lake Library is hosting its annual "School Supplies for Fines" drive to support area children. This program is a great way for patrons to pay off fines while giving back to the community. The library will waive overdue material fees in exchange for donations of school supplies.

Donations can include No. 2 pencils, colored pencils, markers, crayons and backpacks. Last year, the Lady Lake Library donated over 100 pounds of school supplies to The Villages Elementary of Lady Lake. In exchange for donations from the community, nearly $500 in library fines were forgiven. "Last year, The Villages Elementary of Lady Lake greatly appreciated the donations they received," said Aly Herman, Library Director. "It's truly a wonderful way to give back to our community while also providing an added benefit to library patrons."

Donations will be accepted during regular business hours at the Lady Lake Library, located at 225 W. Guava Street, from July 1-31. For more information, visit www.ladylakefl.gov or facebook.com/ladylakelibrary225.

PUBLISHER'S NOTES

Think about what your going to do on election day. You will get all kinds of pressure to vote for a certain person. Ask yourself how did he preform while he was in office. Was your life better for it?

What will happen if Trump wins? Oil drilling will increase right away. the Auto Industry will bounce back, the coal industry will open back up, people will actually have jobs they can be proud of. We will have new refinery's. We will close the border the same day. We will make a decision about the immigrant's in this country. Most will go. The really bad ones will go to prison or go back to the prison they came out of.

If Biden wins? OH MY GOSH! More of the same. Social Security might disappear. Healthcare will suffer. Remember Socialist don't believe the elderly should be alive. The very young and the very old is none productive. The immigrant's are over running our country now I can't imagine what it will be like in five months or next year. Hunter will go back to his old tricks.

On the debate stage Biden is going to say I am debating Trump is a convicted Felon and Trump will say I'm debating someone that is to old and to senile to prosecute. Then there will be chaos.

Trump is coming and the working people are coming with him. I mean the black, whites, Espanic's, all the people Biden has lied too all these years. There will be a few hard decisions to make and some fighting but the patriots of America will win! They won't have to die on a foreign beach head.

Read your doctor report asking "Is a Drug with 32 side effects right for you?"

I have exceeded the limits of my doctors prescription drugs.

Do you see all the immigrants coming across the border with cell phones in their hands????

It's a Federal Program that is legal for them to use as a solution for them to receive information that pertains to Status in US, Healthcare, housing, EBT Entitlement, notification and information. The funding is tucked away in bill, appropriated by some existing law or Executive order.

Regardless it's a bunch of wasteful spending of our Government. The Wireless Industry was lobbying the House to approve or appropriate $7B for 2024 to provide Tablets to Entitlement Families. It didn't get approved.

Commander, the President Biden Family dog bit just Secret service personnel over 20 times. The white house staff who knows how many times. Many White House service personnel have adjustd their schedule to avoid the dog.

Going across our nation are movements about hating our country. Get the hell out of our country. You did not make it what it is our ancestors did. You think it's cool to be a part of a movement. Well I have a movement every morning if I'm lucky. Some times it's a great task.

FAIRtax

One of the loudest complaints against the FAIRtax is that it will abolish the corporate income tax. According to the D.C. elites, it seems unconscionable that billion of dollars of corporate profits would go completely untaxed. They believe that the mega-rich corporations should be obligated to "pay their fair share". An Op-Ed in the Wall Street Journal by Phil Gramm and Mike Salon had some interesting points regarding corporate taxes:

* Americans don't understand that corporations do not pay taxes and that corporate entities are owned by people - you and me.

* Corporate taxes are just like any other cost of doing business and when costs go up, the increase is passed onto different people in different ways - as higher prices to consumers, as lower wages to employees and/or as lower dividends to investors.

* If you consume, you pay the corporate tax. If you consume and work for the corporation, you pay the corporate tax twice. If you consume, work and invest your retirement funds in corporate equities, the corporate tax hits you three times.

* A recent Treasury study confirms that 92.6 million families, 49.5% of all American families, pay more corporate taxes hidden in the price of the things they buy than they do in individual income taxes.

* Even if the D.C. elites like to portray big corporations as being run by greedy robber barons, if you pull back that curtain, it isn't a wizard or robber barons you will see. You will see yourself as a consumer, worker and pensioner. We must not forget that the corporate tax is a tax on everything you buy, a tax on your wages and a tax on your retirement nest eggs.

What are some of the conclusions?

* To hide the true cost of the income/payroll tax system and increased regulation from the American people and to distract attention from the government's numerous failures by creating tension between the American people over "fairness".

* To divert from government failures by blaming greedy corporations and individuals for not paying as they should and trying to convince people that raising corporate taxes would reduce our tax burden.

There is an elegant solution to the corporate tax problem - the FAIRtax.

Please join with me to promote and encourage the adoption of the FAIRtax. For more information please go to FAIRtax.org.

Weather A Storm or Power Outage

Outdoor Power Equipment Helps Weather A Storm or Power Outage

(NAPSI)—Storms are growing more powerful and frequent, so having the right outdoor power equipment on hand and using it safely is important, says the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute (OPEI). Home and business owners should think ahead before foul weather or a power outage occurs.

“Any season can be storm season now,” says Kris Kiser, President & CEO of OPEI, an international trade association representing manufacturers and suppliers of outdoor power equipment, small engines, battery power systems, portable generators, utility and personal transport vehicles, and golf cars. “It’s smart to invest in portable and whole house generators and to have other outdoor power equipment on hand, such as water pumps and chainsaws to handle water damage or flooding and damage from fallen trees.”

He notes that outdoor power equipment is evolving all the time. “There’s a power source for every need including battery/electric, propane, solar and gasoline,” he says, noting each has different maintenance and care requirements. “It’s important that you know how to safely operate your individual equipment. And, remember, always read and follow the manufacturer’s manual and never disable safety features.”

To get ready for inclement weather, homeowners should follow these tips.

1. Before a storm identify which equipment could be needed. Chainsaws or pole saws can trim and clear limbs and shrubs that may break off or get damaged by high winds. String trimmers, pruners and chainsaws can remove other material from around your home that may make it vulnerable to wildfires.

A portable generator powers key appliances and charges cell phones when utilities go down. A whole house generator can keep the lights and appliances on and running. Before an outage, plan where the generator will be set up (never in a home or garage, and always away from your home and any air intake) and determine how to secure it if needed. Buy and install a carbon monoxide detector. Get outdoor-rated extension cords for portable generators and consider adding an approved generator cover for rainy weather.

Water pumps can get water and muck out of basements and homes. Be sure you know how to operate the pump. Never pump substances that your equipment is not designed to cope with. Pay attention to avoid overheating and follow all safety precautions.

A utility type vehicle can transport people and supplies quickly in an emergency. Keep the vehicle stable and drive slowly. Do not turn mid-slope or while on a hill. Consider taking a UTV safety course.

2. Always read and follow the safety and usage recommendations provided by outdoor power equipment manufacturers. Never disable safety features. Practice how to operate equipment before you need it.

Follow all recommended safety measures on the product as well as in the owner’s manual.

3. Have the right fuel on hand and charge batteries ahead of bad weather. Most gasoline-powered equipment uses E10 or less fuel and most manufacturers recommend adding a fuel stabilizer. Fuel that is more than 30 days old may phase separate and cause running problems, so it’s important to purchase fuel just ahead of a storm. Store fuel safely and only use an approved fuel container. Only use manufacturer-recommended batteries.

4. Pay attention to your energy level and health. Preparation for bad weather, a power outage and storm cleanup can be taxing. Do not operate power equipment when tired or overly fatigued. Drink plenty of water and take regular breaks. Always use safety gear such as chaps, gloves, eye protection and hearing protection when operating equipment.

5. Always keep children and pets away from operating outdoor power equipment. Outdoor power equipment are not toys, and should never be used in a manner not intended by the manufacturer.

FROM THE DESK OF CONGRESSWOMAN KAT CAMMACK

Rep. Cammack Applauds Wins For Florida Producers In 2024 Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Early this morning, the House Agriculture Committee completed its full committee markup of the 2024 Farm Bill, the Farm, Food, and National Security Act of 2024. Congresswoman Cammack voted to pass the bill, joining her colleagues for a final bipartisan vote of 33 to 21.

Congresswoman Cammack spoke during the opening remarks for Members during the markup, lauding the bill's provisions that will support Florida's farmers, ranchers, and producers. View her full comments here.

Included in the bill are several wins for Florida's specialty crop producers, including the establishment of a specialty crop committee, funding for the Specialty Crop Research Initiative, more funding for specialty crop mechanization and automation research. Additionally, the bill ensures AGI (adjusted gross income) waivers for disasters and eliminates the AGI limitation for farmers who make more than 75 percent of their income from agriculture.

The Farm, Food, and National Security Act also includes the standing block grant authority for specialty crops, which stems from one of Congresswoman Cammack's leading legislative initiatives before the House Agriculture Committee.

While citrus producers continue to struggle with citrus greening, Rep. Cammack helped reauthorize the Emergency Citrus Disease Research and Extension Program.

For agricultural labor, Rep. Cammack secured a groundbreaking program for precision agriculture and improves precision agriculture practices and their accessibility for producers.

The Livestock Indemnity Program is updated within this bill to increase the payment rate to 100 percent of the fair market value of the animal. Rep. Cammack's effort to secure this provision will help Florida's ranchers continue their way of life in the 21st century.

Florida's rich timber industry will be able to maintain its health with the Forest Service's authority to expand existing programs to address wildfire.

Finally, Florida's commodities received a critical voluntary base acre update and a commodity price raise.

Rep. Cammack praised the work of the Committee, saying:

"The Farm, Food, and National Security Act of 2024 is the culmination of a lot of hard work and listening to producers from around the country. The crafting of this bill has been no easy endeavor, and we still have a long way to go in getting this across the finish line. However, to secure so many critical wins in this base text for Florida farmers, ranchers, and producers is a big relief. Knowing the tremendous pressures our agriculture community has been under in the Sunshine State, it was said all along that Florida had both the most to lose and the most to gain in this bill and I am so glad that we came out on the favorable side of that equation.

"Florida will remain a strong and competitive production agriculture state because of this work and I am so thankful for the many people and organizations that helped along the way. I am especially proud of my team and my local producers who took so much time over the years to help craft this thoughtful and impactful policy. We are looking forward to the next steps of bringing this bill to the House Floor for a full vote and ultimately, to the President's desk."

Rep. Cammack Joins Colleagues In Bipartisan Resolution To Memorialize Officers Lost In Line Of Duty

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Today, Rep. Cammack joined a bipartisan delegation of members to introduce a resolution which seeks to honor and memorialize law enforcement whose lives were lost in the line of duty.

H. Res. 1226 expresses unwavering support for law enforcement across the nation and recognizes the importance that police officers have all the equipment and resources necessary to keep our communities safe in order to protect them while they tirelessly protect us.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MOODY

ATTORNEY GENERAL MOODY'S OFFICE SECURES SECOND 30-YEAR PRISON SENTENCE IN AMORE POOLS

CASE

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—Attorney General Ashley Moody's Office of Statewide Prosecution today secured a strong prison sentence against a woman operating a million-dollar pool contracting scheme. The Honorable Judge Dan L. Vaughn sentenced Chrystal Washburn, owner of Amore Pools, to 30 years in prison for defrauding Florida homeowners. Chrystal, alongside husband and co-defendant Brian Washburn, took deposits and payments for pools—often leaving dangerous debris piles and gaping holes in victims' backyards. In total, the duo stole more than $1.2 million in unaccounted-for cash.

Attorney General Ashley Moody said, "This couple promised to deliver dream pools, but left holes in Floridians' hearts and backyards, by abandoning pool projects and stealing more than $1.2 million in cash. Thanks to our Statewide Prosecutors, Chrystal Washburn, the owner of this pool company, will now serve 30 years in prison for operating this scheme."

According to an investigation by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, Chrystal Washburn started Amore Pools after fraudulently obtaining a contractor's license despite having no experience in the pool industry. Washburn lied on the application and forged another contractor's signature on an affidavit claiming to have worked with that contractor for more than five years. During the course of the scheme, Chrystal Washburn acquired local contractor licenses in various Florida counties by having a Palm Beach County engineer fraudulently vouch for her experience, lie and say that Washburn previously worked for the engineer's company.

Brian Washburn's role in the scheme included acting as the frontman, selling homeowners on the idea of a custom dream pool and did some of the construction work. Chrystal Washburn operated behind the scenes handling contracts and payments. The couple marketed Amore Pools as a small family business, using both attractive digital imaging in sales presentations and emotional invocations of sympathy by describing the family's past tragedies. The Washburns made lofty promises of completing projects within 90 days, or included extra pool features for free to induce homeowners to enter into contracts with Amore and pay large deposits and front-end payments. Often, however, after receiving a deposit, the projects went abandoned, leaving backyards in disarray with dangerous materials and massive holes.

In an attempt to cover up the fraud and make it impossible for customers to receive money back, the couple used a third-party check cashing store to convert the customer checks into cash. The Washburns also committed identity theft by forging customer signatures on permit applications and notices of commencement. Several victims ended up with liens on their properties when Amore failed to pay its vendors for materials.

A jury found Chrystal Washburn guilty of the following:

One count of false information on application for contractor's license, a third-degree felony;

One count of unlicensed contractor, state of emergency, a third-degree felony;

One count of organized scheme to defraud, a first-degree felony;

Seven counts of fraudulent use of personal identification information, third-degree felonies;

Two counts of money laundering, first-degree felonies;

One count of omit/conceal information to avoid workers' compensation premium, a second-degree felony; and

One count of insurance application fraud, a first-degree felony.

Attorney General Moody's OSP previously secured a 30-year prison sentence for Brian Washburn.

Assistant Statewide Prosecutors Jonathan Bridges, Cynthia Irvin and Sophia Birriel-Sanchez prosecuted this case.

AG MOODY ANNOUNCES ARREST OF SIX FRAUDSTERS FOR STEALING NEARLY $250,000 FROM SENIORS THROUGH GRANDPARENT SCAMS

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—Attorney General Ashley Moody's Office of Statewide Prosecution today announced the arrest of six fraudsters for stealing nearly $250,000 from Florida seniors through grandparent scams. The Miami-Dade Police Department's Vice Intelligence Squad reports that the defendants contacted seniors posing as lawyers or legal representatives of one of the victim's grandchildren. The fraudsters told the targets that the grandchildren were arrested after hitting a pregnant woman with a vehicle and needed bail money, then arranged for the victim to send payment.

Attorney General Ashley Moody said, "These fraudsters know that most grandparents would do anything to help a grandchild in need, and through a convincing imposter scheme they used fear and family to extort Florida seniors—stealing nearly a quarter of a million dollars. Working with our great law enforcement partners in South Florida, we were able to shut down this far-reaching grandparent scheme and now six fraudsters will have to answer for their crimes."

Miami-Dade Police Department Director Stephanie V. Daniels said, "I am immensely proud of the Miami-Dade Police Department's Vice Intelligence Squad, for their exceptional collaboration with the Florida Attorney General, and federal agencies in successfully apprehending individuals involved in extorting the elderly population. Their dedication, expertise, and unwavering commitment to protecting our community's most vulnerable population are truly commendable."

After telling the targets the falsified story about the grandchildren in jail, the fraudsters pressured seniors to provide bail money. According to the investigation, the defendants directed the victims to obtain the bail amount in cash, then place it into a box to be picked up by a courier. The couriers—unknowing ride-share drivers booked by the criminals—picked up the cash and transported the money back to the scammers at an arranged rendezvous spot.

In a few instances, the scammers contacted the same victim multiple times pressuring for more cash. In one instance, a Palm Bay victim made an initial bond payment of $9,000, but fraudsters told the victim that the pregnant woman miscarried and the grandchild required an additional $18,000 because authorities upgraded the charges. The defendants then told the same victim the baby's father attacked the senior's grandson for causing the miscarriage, and during the course of the attack the grandchild elbowed a police officer, causing an additional $20,000 needed for bail, as well as $7,500 in court fees. The victim ended up paying the fraudsters more than $54,000. Nearly identical events happened to a Melbourne victim, who paid $53,000 to the criminal group.

In another case, a Sarasota victim sent $8,000 and the fraudsters called back the next day saying the pregnant woman lost the child and requested another $4,000 for bail. The day after that, the defendants claimed the grandson owed medical bills due to the accident and required another $1,700.

A victim in Pompano paid $30,000 for bail and later sent an additional $7,000 because the fraudsters claimed the pregnant woman died and the bond increased.

These defendants preyed upon seniors in multiple counties, including Brevard, Broward, Lee, Miami-Dade, Orange, Palm Beach and Sarasota. The Miami-Dade Police Department, Sunny Isles Beach Police Department, Lee County Sheriff's Office, Brevard Sheriff's Office, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Boca Raton Police Department, North Port Police Department, Broward County Sheriff's Office, Palm Bay Police Department, Jupiter Police Department, Manatee County Sheriff's Office and West Palm Beach Police Department partnered together on the investigation.

All six defendants, Jairo Izquierdo, Genesis Castro, Wendy Angelina Ortiz, Ada Tido, Wandy Castro and Olfa Cornielle, face multiple first-degree felonies, including organized scheme to defraud, grand theft, criminal use of personal identification and more.

Attorney General Moody's Office of Statewide Prosecution will prosecute this case.

GOVERNOR DESANTIS

DeSantis Commits Increases to Teacher Pay

HIACLEAH, Fla.—Today, Governor Ron DeSantis announced his commitment to approving a historic teacher salary funding increase of $1.25 billion in the budget for Fiscal Year 2024–25. Since 2019, Florida has invested over $4 billion in teacher pay increases and has raised starting teacher pay by nearly $10,000. To learn more, click here.

“Florida’s education system is number one in the nation, and we want to make sure good educators are attracted to Florida with attractive compensation,” said Governor Ron DeSantis. “I am proud to have invested more than $4 billion for teacher pay increases since the beginning of my time in office, and I will continue to push for increased funding for Florida’s teachers.”

“I want to thank Governor DeSantis for his steadfast commitment and unwavering dedication to Florida’s education system throughout the years,” said Florida Department of Education Commissioner Manny Diaz, Jr. “Florida continues to attract some of the best educators in the country and it is a testament to the work that Governor DeSantis has done to support education and raise teacher pay. Florida is the education state and with investments like this, we will continue to lead the nation for years to come.”

For the 2023–2024 school year, Florida’s average starting teacher pay is over $48,000, and the average teacher salary exceeds $54,000.

Before Governor DeSantis took office, there was no dedicated, recurring funding for teacher pay increases. In 2020, the Teacher Salary Increase Allocation was established in the budget and has risen from $500,000,000 to more than $1.25 billion approved today for the upcoming year. Thanks to the work of Governor DeSantis and the Florida Legislature, Florida has the highest average starting teacher salary in the southeast United States.

DeSantis Highlights Coral Reef

MARATHON, Fla.—Today, Governor Ron DeSantis highlighted Florida’s investments in coral reef protection and announced enhancements to the 2024 Lionfish Challenge and 2024 Lobster Mini-Season. Through the FY 2024-2025 Focus on Florida’s Future Budget, the Governor invested a historic $57 million for coral reef restoration and coastal protection, bringing the total investment in these efforts in the Governor’s second term to over $114 million.

The Governor also highlighted $5 million in funding to create additional artificial reef habitats through the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC). This funding will support the establishment of an innovative framework for installing, overseeing, and preserving artificial reef habitats in the Florida Keys.

And earlier this year, Governor DeSantis allocated $9.5 million to Florida’s Coral Reef Restoration and Recovery Initiative.

This year’s investments in coral reefs through the Florida state budget exceed the total investment requested by the Biden administration for coral reef restoration across the entire United States.

“Florida has the best fishing and boating in the world because we have the greatest natural resources,” said Governor Ron DeSantis. “That’s why our state is making record investments in protecting our natural treasures, like our coral reefs. Additionally, I was pleased today to announce additional prizes for the annual Lionfish Challenge and an extra day for Floridians to harvest lobster.”

“From lobstering to world-class fishing, the Keys exemplify Florida as the Boating and Fishing Capital of the World,” said FWC Executive Director Roger Young. “Through Governor DeSantis’ support of conserving our natural resources, we will continue to promote the removal of invasive species—such as the lionfish—that negatively impact our waters.”

The Governor also announced that in addition to the 2024 recreational spiny lobster mini-season that will be Wednesday, July 24, and Thursday, July 25, an additional day will be added Sunday, July 14, exclusively for Florida residents. The regular commercial and recreational lobster season will begin on August 6, 2024, and end on March 31, 2025.

Finally, to combat the threat posed by invasive lionfish, Governor DeSantis spotlighted the 2024 Lionfish Challenge that is running through September 2, 2024. This statewide program allows the public to engage in conservation by hunting lionfish to win prizes and contribute to protecting Florida’s natural resources.

Participants can register at FWCReefRangers.com and choose to join either the recreational or commercial category. Since 2014, over one million lionfish have been removed from Florida’s oceans through the Lionfish Challenge. This challenge features a tiered prize system, rewarding divers based on the number of lionfish they harvest. Participants who reach Tier 1 by harvesting 25 lionfish in the recreational category (or 50 pounds of lionfish in the commercial category) will receive a commemorative 2024 Lionfish Challenge Coin. Traditionally, Tier 1 participants keep one additional spiny lobster per day during the Lobster Mini-Season as a prize. However, the Governor today announced that, this year, Tier 1 participants will get to keep two additional lobsters per day.

Boost Your Home Wi-Fi

Boost Your Home Wi-Fi for Ultimate Summer Fun!

(NewsUSA) - With summer break upon us, families are gearing up to spend more time at home together, leading to increased demand on their internet connections to support various devices. On average, internet users ages 16-64 already spend 47 hours per week online, but as the heat sets in, families are likely to find themselves retreating indoors and relying even more heavily on robust Wi-Fi for everything from streaming movies to staying connected with loved ones.

This heightened need makes a mesh Wi-Fi system crucial for maintaining consistent coverage within your household, eradicating dead zones, and ensuring a stable, reliable internet connection. High-speed routers, mesh Wi-Fi systems, and smart home hubs have facilitated an improved internet experience. By strategically distributing multiple access points throughout your home, mesh networks guarantee seamless connectivity in every room, including notoriously hard-to-reach areas like basements or backyards.

A mesh network’s adaptable design allows you to add nodes—small radio transmitters that act as wireless routers and endpoints in a mesh network—effortlessly within all corners of your house, accommodating guests or even extending the network for outdoor activities. These mesh networks, like those found in whole-home Wi-Fi systems, revolutionize home connectivity with their unmatched flexibility and reliability. As opposed to a single central router, these systems connect devices through multiple nodes, creating a resilient web of connections.

This design means your internet service isn’t tied to one point. Through self-healing capabilities, if one node fails, the data seamlessly reroutes through alternative paths, maintaining uninterrupted connectivity. Unlike traditional Wi-Fi extenders, mesh Wi-Fi systems deliver faster speeds because the mesh router and nodes collaborate as a unified network. This setup provides dependable connectivity that smart home systems and interconnected devices, like thermostats, security systems, and smart appliances, need to run.

Hughes, a leader in home Wi-Fi technology, recently introduced new Hughesnet® service plans that are transforming connectivity and accessibility in rural America. These plans come equipped with a Wi-Fi modem featuring Wi-Fi 6 technology, delivering improved speed, enhanced security, and better performance for multiple devices. To further extend the range and assist with factors that can influence the reach of your Wi-Fi signal, including a home’s square footage, number of floors, or wall construction, Mesh Wi-Fi Nodes are also available as add-ons. The new Hughesnet plans enhance the internet experience with unlimited data and decreased latency, ensuring even the most remote locations can enjoy the benefits of a robust and reliable internet connection.

A stable and dependable Wi-Fi network is the key to a blissful, connected home life, allowing families to enjoy their favorite activities without the nagging worry of signal strength or dead zones. This summer, as everyone gathers under one roof, a high-quality and secure Wi-Fi connection becomes indispensable. On those sweltering days when venturing outside is out of the question, kids can dive into their computer games, mom can break a sweat with Peloton, and dad can master new recipes on YouTube—all simultaneously. Embracing mesh networks for seamless wall-to-wall Wi-Fi coverage eliminates the frustration of limited connectivity, ensuring every family member remains effortlessly connected and entertained.

emotional health, as well as academic progress from the previous school year, to stagnate or decline.

Marine Toys for Tots, the Nation's flagship children's Christmastime charity, has evolved into a year-round force for good, and the organization's new initiative seeks to provide support for children in need over the summer months.

"We want to help bridge the summer learning-loss gap that children in underserved communities may face. That is why we have enlisted the help from our distribution partners to provide educational toys, books, games, and other gifts through our spring and summertime initiative, 'School Is Out - Play Is In' to at-risk children across the country," says LtGen Jim Laster, USMC (Retired), President & CEO of the Marine Toys for Tots Foundation.

"Needs aren't seasonal, and neither is Toys for Tots," says LtGen Laster. "With the rising cost of living and other economic challenges, parents are finding it increasingly difficult to pay bills and put food on their family's table. Buying toys, books, or games for their children seems completely out of reach," he adds. "With the support from our generous donors, we can make sure every child's summer is filled with opportunities for fun and continued learning."

The Program's year-round distributions reassure families who face adversity and exceptional circumstances that Marine Toys for Tots is committed to delivering messages of hope, restoring and building self-esteem, and inspiring youngsters to grow into responsible, productive, patriotic citizens. Every contribution will ensure that our Nation's most vulnerable children have the educational tools they need to thrive this summer and beyond.
